

I'm writing to express my deep concern over the proposal to allow cell phones during flight. Passengers are already stressed out and adding rude, obnoxious cell phone users to the mix will only make things worse. Terrorists could use wireless communication as a tool to help them execute their plots. Please do not pass this proposal.

Sincerely,

Julie Ferris

Flight Attendant, Alaska Airlines